WAR TANK FROM FIELDS OF FRANCE

Will Storm Hartford on Wednesday, Apr. 16--Manned
By Soldiers.

A real bona fide battle-tank made by Uncle Sam to vanquish the Hun, will be seen in this city on Wednesday April 16, 1919.

This tank will be one of the features of the Victory Loan special train that will visit Hartford on the date mentioned. It weighs more than seven tons, is armored, and is about 15 feet long and 10 feet high. It will be carried on a special flat car, and under its own power will parade the streets of the city.

The special train will arrive at 7:00 a. m., and will leave at 2:00 p. m. The tank will be manned by soldiers who have seen actual service overseas. Brief addresses will be made by the soldiers and civilians who are on the special train.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

A recent event was the wedding of Miss Opal Maxey and Mr. Albert Clark Elliott, and Miss Cova Maxey and Mr. Earl R. Swinehart, at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maxey, at three o'clock, Sunday afternoon March thirtieth.

Immediately following the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. D. Boggess, the entire wedding party adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Elliott, where a bountiful supper was served. SHOOTING AT ROSINE

A serious shooting affair occurred at Rosine Friday night when Wesley Lewis shot and probably fatally wounded a man by the name of Herrell. The two had engaged in a quarrel over a card game in the evening and it had resulted in blows being exchanged, Herrell cutting Lewis on the hand with a knife and inflicting a painful flesh wound. Later they met again and Lewis shot him. Dr. N. J. Rains was immediately called but pronounced the wounded man fatally hurt. He was taken to Caneyville Saturday morning and it is not known whether he is still alive.

NEW PAPER MAKES ITS DEBUT

We are in receipt of the first copy of the Dawson Springs Progress, a new paper published at Dawson Springs. This first issue is newsy and well made up and if it continues it will be one of the best weekly papers published in the state. Its editor, Mr. W. T. Davis, we are told, is a young man of some eighteen summers, and is certainly making a splendid entrance into the ring of young Kentucky journalists. We give him and his paper our warmest congratulations.

Special One Day Fair, at Hartford Fair Grounds July 4th 1919. We make this early announcement so that people having stock to exhibit will have time to get ready.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindnesses and help in the illness, death and burial of our wife and mother.

J. H. BROWN and CHILDREN.

MR. JUSTUS MILLER

IS FAST IMPROVING

Was Committed to Western

Kentucky Hospital After Attack of Influenza.

Mrs. D. B. Rhodes and sister returned Thursday from a visit to their brother, Mr. Justus Miller, who is now at the Western State Hospital. Mr. Miller had a very serious attack of influenza, making it necessary for him to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. Miller is an excellent young man, of a highly respectable family being the son of the late W. W. Miller, deceased who was one of Ohio's County's Teacher's. We are glad to be informed Mr. Justus has greatly improved since taking the treatment. The doctors say he is getting along nicely. He has many friends who wish him a speedy recovery to health.

TOBACCO SEASON

IS NEARING CLOSE

The tobacco sales on the Owensboro market have passed the 40,000,000 mark. At the close of business on Friday afternoon there had been a sale of 38,455,555 pounds of Pryor tobacco and 1,941,190 pounds of Burley sold on the Owensboro floors this season, making a total of 40,149,745 pounds. For this tobacco the growers have received $6,198,809.35. The average of Pryor tobacco for the season is $15.24 and on Burley it is $20.01.

It is estimated that the crop in the Green River district this year will run around 45,000,000 pounds. There have been about 2,500,000 pounds sold at Livermore and several hundred thousand pounds sold in Hancock and Breckinridge counties. There are possibly 2,000,000 pounds remaining in the barns of the Green River district. The market in Owensboro is almost sure to close by the last of the month. Practically all the other markets in the state have already closed.

For the present week there were sales of 598,205 pounds of Pryor tobacco at an average of $12.97. The Burley sales totaled 18,210 pounds at an average of $14.24. Two of the big buyers, the American and Gallagher, are still off of the floors.

NEW CAR ON

BEAVER DAM TRACK

Mr. Alex Curtis has installed his new five-passenger "Dodge" on the Beaver Dam "trunkline" and we had the pleasure of riding in it on its initial official journey. The car is a soft rider and up to the mark. Mr. Curtis is the chief conductor and general passenger agent on the "old reliable" bus line. He goes rain or shine, cold or hot and deserves the patronage of all our citizens. He pays a revenue and carries the mail and should be supported from patriotic reasons if for no others. Take a ride in the new Dodge.

BRO. SNELL CALLED

AT DUNDEE

(Special to Herald)
Dundee, Ky., April 7.—Rev. M. G. Snell, of Centertown, preached at Independence Baptist church Sunday evening. After him delivering a very forceful sermon, the church went in to an election for pastor. Bro. Snell was called by a unanimous vote of the church, his time being taken up on the fourth Sunday and the time of meeting was changed to the second Saturday night and Sunday. He will preach at eleven o'clock next Sunday for his first appointment.

FIRE AT THE

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Quite a little excitement was caused here Wednesday afternoon about five thirty by the cry of "Fire" and the ringing of the courthouse and church bells. The fire was located at the Christian church, people came from all directions and a bucket brigade was soon formed which quickly extinguished the flames. Very little damage was done. The fire was started by soot catching fire and falling on the roof.

THE VENEER OF THE YEARS

BY WALTER GREEP.

CHAPTER VIII THE PROGRESS OF A COUNTRY BEAU.

After Oscar's rescue of Samantha from the waters of the Rill in such a heroic manner, he grew greatly in her affection. She became more and more attached to him. Her parents were not inclined to look upon him with much favor, they having a greater liking for the more ambitious Merlin, and forbade her accepting his attentions. Nevertheless, parents' laws were never strong enough to bind lovers apart, and many were the secret trysts stolen by this budding pair. Samantha worked out devious plans to get to be with Oscar. She made nearly twice as many trips to Devondale as was necessary, because he usually happened to be going the same direction, whether accidentally or on purpose. We will have to guess; she went to more parties than she had been accustomed to doing and finally she decided to give one herself.

Her father finally consented to her giving a play party after she had pleaded piteously and earnestly. "But," he said, "there are two things you must not do: You must have no dancing and you must not, under any circumstances, invite that foolish Brown boy."

Now the last clause was not at all to Samantha's liking. That had been the reason she had planned the party—to be with Oscar. So she sighed, hesitated, studied thoughtfully and appeared to be undecided. "As for myself," continued her father, "I will not be here. I cannot bear a bunch of giggling youngsters and so I will remain away from home that night. You will not have the Brown boy here?" "No," she said softly, as all women do when they really mean yes. And so, when she made out the name of the list she intended to invite, she placed Oscar's name first. To break her father's commands was one of the detestable little traits the years were adding to her character.

The party came off on the last night in August, a beautiful and starry night, cool but cloudless. Her father, as he had said, was away. And, moreover, to her great joy, Oscar was there. Of all the handsome young men present, in her eyes, he bore the palm. Dressed in somber black, with a snowy collar contrasting with his sun-burned face, and a huge stickpin adorning his red cravat, he appeared to Samantha as the prince of fashion and the king-royal of the whole occasion.

After the preliminary greetings the crowd gathered in the large hall where games were to be played. Dancing had been prohibited but music had not, so the youngsters said they must have music. Neither Samantha or any of the other girls would consent to play the piano and the boys could not, so that idea was cast aside. But Oscar was not to be baffled by this at all. Silently he slipped out of the door and hastened to Devondale to find Charlie and the professional negro musicians of the village. Soon the guests heard the twang of a guitar outside, and the next moment the young negroes entered, a grin of delight spread all over their faces. They were followed by Oscar who seemed very much pleased over his successful "find."

"Oh, I fetched 'em," he said. "Taint once in a hundred you will find these boys at home. Now we are goin' to have some music of the old-fashioned kind. Strike up, niggers!" And they struck.

Negroes are natural musicians, with an instinct for melody that transcends that of their white brothers, and as they drew the bow across the quivering violin strings or ran their deft fingers over the guitar board, the air seemed to reverberate with music. After several guitar solos, they tuned their instruments and struck up that old-time air, "Turkey in the Straw." The guests cheered when it began and Oscar, thoroughly carried away with the music, sat beating time with his foot.

"Say, Bill, ain't that simply great he asked a friend, tapping him on the shoulder. "I feel like I could jig to that piece like a darkey, don't you?" "You're doggone right," answered Bill. "Suppose we try a round or two just to show them what we can do?"

Bill and Oscar jumped out into the middle of the floor and began to dance in the old jig-fashion. The musicians grinned with delight and swayed rhythmically. When they left the floor breathless, the crowd cheered and begged for another turn.

"Say, Samantha, why couldn't we have a waltz or two?" said Oscar. "It wouldn't hurt anything."

"Oh, father wouldn't allow it. I had to promise him I would have no dancing before he would agree for me to give the party." If he knew—

"But would he have to know it?" Oscar put in. "None of us are goin' to tell him, I'm shore; and you said he was down at Mr. Matthew's tonight."

"But mother would not allow it. She's in the sitting room and would hear us if we were dancing. I fear we cannot have any waltz tonight," she concluded.

"But, Samantha, we can't have no fun without a little dancing," Oscar persisted.

"Yes we can to—we are having a splendid time!" the girls interposed, being afraid of wounding Samantha's feelings by seeming unappreciative. "Remember, Oscar, this is Samantha's party—not ours. Samantha understood this to mean that they would rather have dancing, but as it was contrary to her wishes they would forego it. She was yielding. Truly, would her father ever know if she permitted them to dance? And would he really care if he knew? She had deceived him in one way by inviting Oscar when she had promised she would not—and as a consequence had spent one of the most pleasant evenings of her life. Why not deceive him again and add to the joy of the evening? She was almost persuaded.

And then Oscar commenced once more: "Samantha, come now and let's have just one little set. I'll have the boys to play one of the old-time waltzes and me and you can dance it to perfection. Come on."

"Alright, just as you say," she answered smilingly as they waltzed out into the center of the floor. Had it been some one else urging she would probably have refused, but she could not refuse Oscar. When Samantha and Oscar began dancing it was a signal for all the others to come on. So in a few minutes there were ten couples on the floor and new ones appearing. The musicians became enthusiastic and struck up in a livelier key; the dancers' heels on the oaken floor became louder; and the cheers of those who were not participating increased as the dance became more spirited. The hubbub was intense. Just then Samantha's mother opened the door and peered in.

TOM S. RHEA ANNOUNCES FOR GOVERNOR'S RACE Will State Platform On Which He Expects to Run Soon.

Thomas S. Rhea, of Russellville, who was Democratic State campaign manager at the last election, has made his formal announcement as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Mr. Rhea managed Senator Beckham's senatorial campaign and was chosen by Gov. Stanley to conduct his campaign when he made the race to succeed the late Senator Ollie James.

"I make this announcement after having had this matter under advisement several weeks," reads Mr. Rhea's formal announcement, "having conferred with leaders representing various elements in the party and believing that if nominated that I can carry the party banner to victory in November. Within the next few days I shall announce my position on all public questions, believing that the people have a right to know how the candidate stands on all questions affecting their interests."

Mr. Rhea served a term as State Treasurer during the administration of Gov. McCreary.

Other Democratic candidates are Prof. H. H. Cherry, of Bowling Green; Chief Justice John D. Carroll, of New Castle, and Lient. Gov. John D. Black, of Barbourville.

ANOTHER BIG JUMP TAKEN IN THE PRICES FOR CORN

Chicago.—Corn made an extraordinary jump in price today, amounting in some cases to six cents a bushel. Official announcement that wheat scarcity was so acute that wheat and flour exports from the United States to neutral countries had been stopped, was chiefly responsible.

Victory for the liquor interests in the Chicago municipal election was also an important factor. The steepest advance was in corn for September delivery, a rise to $1.38-1.2 as against $1.32-1.2 at the finish on Monday.

Traders took the view that corn products would be much more in demand for export in place of wheat and flour. It was a popular opinion also that rye and barley would be largely bought on the chance that the result of the Chicago section would be interpreted as a referendum on prohibition, and that with a peace treaty signed before July 1 prohibition would not be permitted to take effect.

Fresh advances developed later and the May delivery soared to $1.58-1.4, again of 7-1-4c a bushel compared with Monday. Tiptop figures, however, were not maintained at the finish.

STANLEY TO RESIGN

Governor Makes First Announcement Concerning Taking Seat In Senate

Louisville, Ky.—"When will I resign? Why, that depends entirely on Woodrow," was the answer made here tonight by Governor Stanley as to his intentions of relinquishing the governorship.

Governor Stanley said he would resign as soon as the president decided upon an extra session of congress, but not before, as he could be doing things in Kentucky, while in Washington all he could hope to do just now would be to hold his hands and wait.

Senator Beckham called on the governor at the Seelbach tonight and conferred with him for more than an hour. The nature of the conference was not made known.

FLYING CIRCUSES OF FAMOUS ACES TO TOUR CITIES

WARLIKE DEMONSTRATIONS TO BE GIVEN BY BIRDMEN OF
THREE NATIONS

DURING LOAN CAMPAIGN

Exhibitions Scheduled for St. Louis,
Louisville, Memphis and Little Rock in April.

The greatest flying program the United States has ever witnessed will be offered in connection with the coming Victory Liberty Loan. Demonstration of the flying art as developed above the battlefields of Europe will be given to approximately fifty of the leading American cities by the most celebrated aces of the United States, France and England.

Three flying circuses made up of American, French and British aviators and flying American planes and captured German Fokker planes will tour the United States, giving aerial stunts, battles and performing aerial acrobatics over all the leading American cities, under the direction of the Bureau of Publicity of the Victory Loan Organization, Frank R. Wilson, director. The actual flights will be under the direction of the Military Aeronautics Branch of the War Department, with Captain Leon Richardson in charge.

German Fokkers.

Fourteen German Fokker planes captured by General Pershing's men have landed at Newport News and will be shipped at once to Washington and turned over to the Treasury Department for the period of the Loan Campaign. These German planes are all in flying condition and will be used in all of the demonstrations during the loan. The best types of American planes developed during the war will be demonstrated to the American people to show what has been achieved as a result of the generous response to Liberty Loan Campaigns.

Among the cities to be visited are St. Louis, Louisville, Memphis and Little Rock, in the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

A flying squadron made up of American, French and British flyers will tour each of three districts beginning April 10th. The eastern tour will begin at Mineola, Long Island; the middle western tour will begin at New Orleans and the far western tour at San Diego. Each squadron will be carried in a special train of eleven cars, traveling at night. Nine end door baggage cars will be required to carry the seventeen airplanes in each squadron. Each train will be preceded by an officer, who will select landing fields and make arrangements with local Liberty Loan committees for the entertainment of the flyers.

The names of the six great British flyers are not yet known. However, the United States Government has been informed by the British Government that six of the best British flyers developed during the war will be here in time for the tours. The delegation of eight French flyers has already left France for the United States. One of the French flyers has a record of forty-three victories over German adversaries. Another made 179 bombing trips over German lines.

Photographs of the Signal Corps will accompany each squadron. They will take war photographs of each of the American cities visited. The general program to be followed in each city visited will be as follows: Two American scout planes will rise to drop Victory Loan literature over the city. Four German planes will then attack these two American planes in the air. Four American planes will then drive off the German planes and the flyers will give demonstrations of aerial acrobatics. Parades will precede the flights. Citizens will be able to see the planes unloaded and set up in the morning and knocked down for shipment after the flights.

LET US SHOW SPEED.

When the "doughboys" were ordered to go over the top and drive the enemy from his positions their speed and bravery and fighting ability changed world history. Let us show equal speed when the Victory Liberty Loan is offered.

SEE IT THROUGH!

What though the guns begin to rust,
The fire of war is ash—
What matter if the vineyard land
Forgets the pounding chash?
We cannot say we saw it through
Until the last bill's paid,
Until the road of peaceful gain
Is staunchly, firmly laid.
We cannot glorify our arms,
The deeds of heroes there,
Until we've nursed them back to health
And paid the homeward fare,
We loaned our dollars while they bled,
Now Victory Bonds let's buy
To guarantee the things for which
Our brothers went to die!

By Twelve Bottles of PERUNA

Greatest Human Vitalizer

"During the winters of 1897 and 1898, I was so badly afflicted with catarrh of the head and throat that I must surely die from it. After trying many doctors and all other recommended remedies made known to me, I was induced to use Peruna. I was cured entirely by using twelve bottles of Peruna, and one bottle of Manalin."

Since that time, I have never been without Peruna. I use it for colds and as a general tonic during Spring and Fall months and find it the greatest human vitalizer."

Where Methodist Eyes of the World Will Center Next June and July

Glimpse of Magnificent Exposition Grounds at Columbus, O., being prepared for a display of Methodist activities from all parts of the globe. Insert shows Dr. D. D. Forsyth, Philadelphia, Chairman of the Joint Centenary Committee of the M. E. Church.

COLUMBUS, O.—(Special).—Methodist ministers and laymen to the number of several thousands are getting their concrete notions of what the Methodist Centenary Celebration, to be held here June 20 to July 7, will be like. Attending a special regional meeting, at which men like Bishop Wilson, R. A. Ward and Fred B. Fisher of New York; Bishop McDowell, Washington; Bishop Warner, India; S. Earl Taylor, director general of the celebration; D. D. Forsyth, Philadelphia; C. F. Reisner, New York; Edgar Blake, Chicago, and R. S. Cushman, New York, are speakers, they have still enjoyed an opportunity to visit the exposition grounds where for weeks past work has been in progress preparing for the tremendous celebration for which it is expected that more than 100,000 Methodists will journey to Columbus from all parts of the United States.

The spacious buildings already provided by the state of Ohio are being modified and extended to meet the peculiar needs of the Methodist Celebration. This will visualize to pastor and laymen the work of the church at home and the work of the church abroad. Here will be seen, with all the fidelity and detail of a world exposition, the natives of all the countries in which the Methodist church operates as a missionary force. Here, too, will be set forth all the work in this country. Essentially the entire world of Methodism will be brought to Columbus and displayed in its original colors and with all the circumstance and surrounding of its various habitations on the globe.

Two special pageants are being planned and many lesser ones. A climax of the celebration will be a symbolic representation of the drawing together of all the nations of the earth through the gospel of Christ.

In order to care for the throngs that are certain to be in attendance an extensive bureau already has been organized. Registrations and reservations already are being made for interested Methodists throughout the United States.

H. B. Dickson, organizing secretary of the Centenary Celebration, is occupying two entire floors of a large office building, with the incidental corps of assistants to take care of the work.

DO NOT THINK YOU HAVE DONE ENOUGH FOR YOUR COUNTRY

Rabbi Leon Harrison, Noted Temple
Israel Pastor, Pleads for More Service.

Rabbi Leon Harrison, noted pastor of Temple Israel, St. Louis, who has delivered ringing addresses throughout the nation in all war activities, has driven home his first nail in the Government's platform of the Victory Liberty Loan.

"There are some who fear that the public may be lukewarm in this new Victory Loan drive, because they think that the war is over."

"But the war is not really over until the treaty of peace is signed. It is not over until every man in the American Expeditionary Forces has been brought back to his native soil and to his home. It is not over until every sailor that enlisted for the war in the United States Navy shall have been demobilized."

"But in the meantime we must support these millions of sailors and soldiers. We must pay them, and shelter them, and feed them. And we have to pay our bills incidental to the great war, whose battles are now ended, but not its financial consequences."

"Your taxes are not enough, however heavy they may be. The revenue of the Government is far from being sufficient. The American Government is obliged to borrow money to pay its running expenses, because these are still war expenses. We must still support our army and our navy. We must pay the bills for what our Government has ordered during the past year for the victorious conclusion of the great war."

The buying of your Government's obligations, Dr. Harrison says, is not only a fine investment, but a splendid act of patriotism and devotion to the freest government on earth.

Send for a Bomb, Sir.

The excited voice of the mother of George B. Elliott of the firm of Breed, Elliott & Harrison, announced that an old house owned by Mr. Elliott was burning.

"Is it still burning?" inquired Mr. Elliott, with some anxiety in his voice. When informed in the affirmative, he replied, with much relief, "Well, there is nothing that I can do," and told his mother to notify him if the fire was in danger of going out.—Indianapolis News.

Spain Fighting Malaria.

Through reforesting marshes as a preventive measure and cultivating medicinal herbs for curative purposes, Spain is credited with a recent material reduction of malaria, in spite of quinine scarcity and other war disadvantages. The chief malarial area of the country is estimated at 741,330 acres, and the effort is being made to reclaim as much of this as possible. The 233,044 cases of malaria in 1913 caused a loss in work of 3,515,505 days with a money loss estimated at $20,000,000.

DON'T THROW AWAY Your Old Tires

Conserve and Help Lick the Kaiser

THIS is to show you why "DRI-KURE RETREDING" with a 3,500-mile guarantee will save you one-half to two-thirds on your tire bill.

"Dri-Kure Retreding" is a proven factory method—not the old "kettle" process that soaks the carcass of your tire with steam, that, when cold, turns to water and rots the fabric.

"Dri-Kure" method is operated by DRY HEAT under 3,000 pounds pressure. The mere fact that racing drivers use tires cured by the Dri-Kure Process is proof that we build our treads for service.

Tom Alley, Chicago racing driver, averaged 104 miles per hour for 100 miles at Chicago Speedway, June 22, 1918, without a tire change and all on Retreded Tires. There's a reason.

Now Compare the Cost and Saving

Compare the cost of the tire you have on your car now and the cost of Dri-Kure Retreding, the same size. The chart of prices will show you the cost of retreading.

Now Figure the Saving for Yourself and remember that every tire we retread is guaranteed for 3,500 miles. Is this saving worth while? Think it over. Who wouldn't want to save from one-half to one-third of their tire bills?

We will gladly show you the complete detail and extend to you a personal invitation to come in for a chat. We will prove to you the success of this process to your own satisfaction.

A New Back for an Old One—How a Hartford Resident Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Hartford citizen.

Miss Emma E. Park, Washington St., Hartford, says: "From time to time I suffered with a dull backache. At these times I have had dizzy spells and black spots appear before my eyes. My kidneys have been disordered also, and I have been caused a great deal of annoyance on this account. I have gotten up in the morning feeling tired and worn-out. I have found that Doan's Kidney Pills did me a lot of good whenever I suffered in that way and I consider them an excellent kidney medicine."

And the oldtime sign now reads, "What is home without a car."

Thos. S. Rhea has cast his lid into the ring for Democratic nomination for Governor. More the merrier and less the winner's majority.

The trouble with the League of Nations questions is, there are so few that really understand it. Many of its most seething critics as well as its ardent supporters are people who know as little about it as a razorback hog does about his family tree.

As an example of what it costs to build roads properly we recently heard of an iron bridge that was short and not extraordinarily well-built that cost $11,000. A contractor giving an estimate on an iron bridge below Hartford estimated it at $9,000. And yet we are expected to have good roads with perhaps $25,000 or $30,000 yearly for this purpose. And Ohio County has over one hundred miles of roads.

The polyglot assembly of muck-raking propagandists and beer-bloated hyphenates, known as the National Brewers' Association, or a similar appellation, now comes forward with that abominable crusade of sentimental trash stating that the soldiers did not desire prohibition and the people infringed on their rights while they were fighting overseas. We do not think the soldiers of the United States will be influenced by such forces as are at work to play them off for personal profit. Most of them thoroughly appreciate the good effects of wartime prohibition and will give their complete sanction to seeing it become nation-wide.

After fifty years service as editor of the Courier-Journal and sometime as editor emeritus, Marse Henry has stepped down and out. The reason is, he and the Courier-Journal do not gee. Borne forward by the advancing tide of progress, unable to longer cling with tenacious grasp to the obsolete and destructive national policies of the past—policies of individualism gone to seed and personal liberty grown so personal as to be equivalent to national degradation—the Courier-Journal, under the efficient management of Judge Bingham, has discarded the support of these policies and comes out four-square for national rectitude and international justice. The Courier-Journal has been equally good since Mr. Watterson resigned as active editor as it was before; we do not foresee its immediate collapse since he was vacated the throne of editor emeritus.

The election of Bill Thompson as Mayor of Chicago for the second time brings us face to face with an appealing situation. Though elected on the Republican ticket, it was not a Republican victory, and the Republicans of Chicago and elsewhere are thanking their stars that it was not. Bill Thompson was elected by the Germans and other disgruntled foreigners, arrayed against the clean thinking Americans of the Windy City, both Republicans and Democrats. The foreigners are in much the majority in Chicago; in fact Thompson calls it the "sixth German city." He opposed the war in all its issues; he resisted the draft; he refused to invite Marshall Pech to his city. In so doing he lost the support of the party that had elected him. The Chicago Tribune, a strong partisan Republican paper, was bitter against him. The pure blooded Americans, irrespective of political affiliations, went against him; the foreigners rallied to his rescue and today he is re-elected as Mayor. What they did in Chicago they can stage in all the states, Europe will then virtually control the United States. It is time for thinking Americans to wake up to the danger of this situation.

The convention last week was quite a success. But much indifference was shown by both civilians and returning soldiers. In fact it was poorly attended throughout and did not seem to awake an enthusiasm in those who attended. In fact most of the soldiers and others with whom we had conversation expressed their belief that the convention was premature; that a demobilization conference was not in order while the largest member of Ohio County's sons, the ones who really deserve the most honor, are still overseas; that it could have been held with better interest later in the season. These seemed to be the chief reasons for its small attendance comparatively. However, it should be borne in mind that these conferences are being held in many counties of the state, chiefly as a vindication of the work of the Y. M. C. A., against the stories of returning soldiers and others who are spreading "propaganda." And if in other counties, why not in Ohio?

WESTERFIELD ADVERTISES

We were recently shown through the great furniture store of the Westerfield Furniture Company, in Owensboro and were amazed at the amount and quality of stock carried. Three floors were crowded full of every article needed to make home happy—except love and a good conscience. Davenettes, stoves, rugs, all kinds of furniture—we could name them indefinitely, but do not need to—crowded the building. We suggested to Mr. Westerfield that the people of Ohio County ought to know about these articles and he decided to tell them about them in a series of ads in The Herald. Read the first one in this series, which appears in this issue.

Your Easter Toggery

should be engaging your attention. Everything indicates on this memorial day this year you will see more well dressed men, women and children than you have ever seen, or will see again for many years to come. The lateness of Easter gives plenty of time for preparation as well as a good spring day to enjoy your new clothes.

This store strives to have everything you want—when you want it, and every necessity can almost always be supplied here.

Our Millinery Department

is crowded with the season's newest creations in Easter Hats for ladies, girls and little boys. You won't be disappointed if you depend on us for your Easter Bonnet.

Our Ready-to-Wear Department

You would be surprised to know the number of well-dressed women you see we've fitted and sold in our Ready-to-Wear Department. It may be a Coat Suit, or it may be a Coat, Cape or Dolman. It may be a Skirt and Waist. The biggest assortment of high-grade ready-to-wear in the Green River district will be found here.

Our Clothing Department

is the liveliest place for young men's, boys' and older men's suits in the county. All the new models for young men are on display here that stand in class A 1. This store is the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx fine suits. Strictly all-wool fabrics and high-class tailoring. Remember that high-class merchandise sold on a legitimate profit basis is much better for the consumer than medium and shoddy merchandise at so-called cut prices.

We Invite You to Look—Not to Buy

We want you to see and closely inspect our showings in every department. If you can't see that you are perfectly safe in supplying your necessities here we don't want you to buy. Will you put your time against ours and post yourself?

JUDGE EVANS RULES AND THE WAR IS OVER

That the war is officially over and that regulations promulgated by the Secretary of War for the period of the "present war" are therefore null and void was the decision of Judge Walter Evans in the United States District Court today in granting a motion for a new trial to Harry Hicks, a restaurant keeper, found guilty of keeping a disorderly house within the five-mile zone surrounding Camp Zachary Taylor.

Despite the fact that no treaty has been signed, Judge Evans said, the war came to an end with the armistice. History shows many cases of wars ending without the signing of a treaty, he said, and he quoted the address of President Wilson to a joint session of Congress after the signing of the armistice, in which he said: "The war thus comes to an end, for having accepted the terms of the armistice, it will be impossible for the German Government to renew hostilities. It is not now possible to assess the consequences of this great war's consummation. We know only the war is at an end." In his conclusion, the court said: "It is urged that Congress alone can terminate the war, but that does not follow for the Constitution while in express terms gives Congress the sole power, of declaring war, in no way so expresses itself as to give that body any authority to terminate the war."

Officially Declared Ended.

"So in this case, while Congress has not officially declared war ended, in its presence the Commander-in-Chief of the army did officially declare that war to be at an end. Authoritative publications show that while war is usually terminated by a treaty of peace and that such treaty is the best evidence of such a termination, history shows many instances in which there was no treaty."

"The President's official communication before Congress met all conditions. It was made on a notable occasion and attracted the attention of the civilized world."

"For certain reasons there has been no treaty signed, but it is claimed that the war ended last November and the message of the President met with all universal acceptance by the people. In advance of the treaty it is possible for the war to break out again, but if it does not do so, certainly the war is at an end. Again the President's official communication was either true or rhetorical optimism. This court is by no means at liberty to yield to the latter alternative, for it is clearly of the opinion that the war is over."

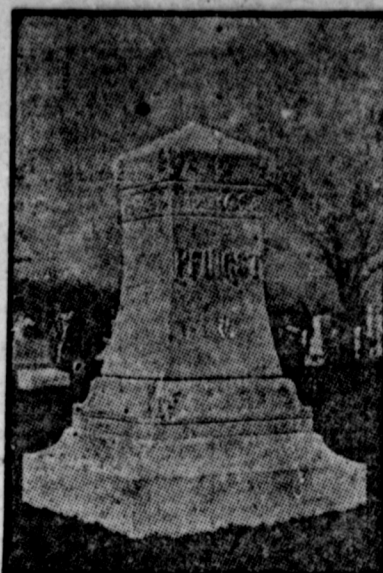

How Laws Differ.

Referring to an act passed by Congress that it shall be unlawful during the war or until demobilization to sell any liquor or spirits of any kind within the zone surrounding the camp, the Judge holds that this does not enter into the case.

The law referring to disorderly houses, however, he said, is plain and explicit and contains no provision in respect to demobilization or anything resembling it.

"We have said that in our view the statements made by the President and treated as prima facie true in the present statu in this case, though facts may develop to the contrary," said Judge Evans. "In view of such possible developments, we have concluded it best to overrule the defendant's for arrest in judgment and sustain his motion for a new trial."

"If at the next term a new trial shall be had an instructed verdict of not guilty can be asked, and at the same time be given, if nothing then appears to demonstrate the inaccuracy of the President's statement. This remark should not be construed as reaching any 'ex post facto' legislation that may be in the meantime enacted."

ABANDONED WESTERN OIL FIELDS FOR RICHER PROMISE IN ZINC ORE

Organization of the Louisville Mansfield Zinc & Lead Syndicate Reveals Business Romance

Dr. T. T. Beeler, Dentist, Then Oil Magnate, Sold Interest in 157 Wells for Bigger Prospects.

Louisville, Ky.—How a business romance, blossoming in the bosom of Mother Earth, led the way to a dream of affluence that is fast materializing, is brought out in the organization here of the Louisville Lead & Zinc Syndicate Company, a corporation the stock of which rapidly is becoming the property of the public. That it is not a romance of the oil fields will be a matter of surprise to those who look largely to the oil well as the fountain of business romance.

Formation of the Louisville Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate follows closely upon organization of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate, a corporation already on an operating and dividend-paying basis, but the romance goes back eleven years to the oil fields of the west and to a dentist's chair in a small Oklahoma town.

Dr. T. T. Beeler.

In a suite of offices in the Starks Building a small keen-eyed man, trying to make every minute yield its quota of result of an atmosphere of high pressure, knows all about the romance, for he had lived it. He is Dr. T. T. Beeler, vice president of the Louisville Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate. He is the man who, eleven years ago, while a practicing dentist in an Oklahoma town, became interested in western oil development. With holdings in 157 oil wells after he had become successful in that game, Dr. Beeler had wide opportunities to observe the possibilities and exigencies of that business, or game, as it may rightly be called. He saw men carried up into the realm of sudden riches; he saw hopes fulfilled beyond their own limits. But he saw the other side, too, of the oil game—its uncertainty, and the ruin that this uncertainty brought to some.

One day Dr. Beeler heard about the strike made in the famous Joplin zinc ore district. He began studying the possibilities of the new found opportunity. He reflected that in the oil business, when a well was drilled, no mortal could with certainty tell which of four things would be the result—oil, water, gas or a hole in the ground. He reflected that an oil well, drilled from 1,100 to 3,300 feet in the ground, cost from $5,000 to $50,000 before its real promise was known. And then he compared this with data he had gathered about the mining industry, in which nature's store of wealth lies comparatively close to the surface and covers great areas, necessitating, in proportion, a small initial outlay. He applied this comparison particularly to what he had heard about the Joplin-Mansfield fields.

Dr. Beeler was not long in making up his mind. It was two years ago in Kansas City that the project, which is now being carried to every state in the Union, had its inception. Dr. Beeler had selected a partner, severed his connections with the oil fields, and had employed an agent, versed in the technique of such an undertaking, to investigate opportunities in the Joplin district.

But it was by chance that the real opportunity was found. One day, when Dr. Beeler's emissary was fruitlessly bickering with people in the field to which prospectors were already swarming, an old man called him aside.

"If you want to see an unworked locality, I want to show you something," said the old man.

As the result of the investigation and assaying which followed, Dr. Beeler, his partner and several notaries, in all of the public automobiles the nearby town afforded, set out in the late afternoon in what is now the Mansfield district. The chauffeurs and the notaries and all others with whom the Dr. came in contact were bound to secrecy. There were neither automobiles nor notaries available for other possible prospectors.

That was October 13, 1917. In a day or so, the prospectors had secured leases on 18,000 acres of land rich in zinc ore, and had laid the foundation of the project which is now becoming na-

Heed the Warning Of Authority!

"Make Your Dollars Have More Cents"

Stock Now $1.00

¶ We're away over the $200,000 mark! We've received checks for stock from States as distant as New York and Texas! ¶ Investors are judging the value of the stock of the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company by the record of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate. That company, already in operation, paid a monthly dividend of 2% in January and 3% in February. The officers and directors of both companies are chiefly the same gentlemen and the newer company has been organized to do just what the other is doing but on a larger scale. ¶ Its holdings are greater, consisting of four tracts of 40 acres each in the Mansfield District, right where the Mother Lode of the great Ozark Lead and Zinc fields comes nearest the surface. We've proven our holdings by drilling. We're already sinking the first shaft for our first mill!

re-wide. They knew that by taking ore from slight excavations at given points over a given area, that the findings of an expert assayer-geologist would give them the exact extent of wealth which the establishment of mills would produce. Unlike the mere promise of an oil well, the potentialities of a zinc field could be scientifically established. Their reports were secured from A. Arnold, State geologist of Missouri, and Joseph Metcalfe, a London mineralogist and engineer, and showed that tests had proved the expectations of the prospectors.

These geological reports bear out to a large extent a theory which later became current as to the origin of the rich mineral products around Mansfield, Mo. According to this theory, Mansfield, one of the highest points in the district, is the site of a pre-historic volcano. The purest ore is found closest to this center, while the adulterated deposits are found as the distance becomes greater.

Once he had secured rights to the land, Dr. Beeler's plan became known and soon the district was a bee-hive of fortune-hunters. But all of the promising land in the vicinity had been leased by Dr. Beeler and his associates and they were ready to launch their project.

Their scheme of operation calls ultimately for the organization of local companies in each of the forty-five states. Each of these corporations will be granted concessions around the reserved portion of the leases which the parent corporation will hold and which will be enhanced in value with the growing activity surrounding it.

The Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate was incorporated June 13, 1918. Its capital stock of $100,000 was quickly sold out. On November 1 it bought its first mill, which soon began operations on the ground, and on February 1 a 2% dividend for January was paid stockholders, following which was paid a 3% dividend for February.

The Kentucky syndicate is made up almost entirely of Kentucky men. T. M. Crutcher, of Louisville, head of the Louisville Dental Laboratory, is president, and N. C. Cureton is secretary. W. E. Newbold, of Louisville, is treasurer. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, is the corporation's attorney. Dr. Beeler is one of the directors, as is also Dr. Charles A. Funk. The officers of the LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE, which was formed February 21, 1918, are the same as those of the Kentucky syndicate except that Dr. Beeler is vice president and J. C. Mahon, well known Louisville business man, is a director. Over half of the capital stock of $500,000 already has been sold. Offices of the company are at 409 Starks Bldg., Louisville.

The stock is being put out at $1.00 (par value) per share.

The company's property is in the heart of the Ozark Mountains, Wright County, Mo. One forty-acre tract is located between two mills, those of the Kentucky syndicate, known as the "Pioneer Mill," and of W. E. Caldwell, of Louisville, known as the "Red-bird Mill." This tract is considered one of the best in the district although three other forty-acre tracts are well located and partly tested.

So, as the new LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE starts its wheels a-whirling, the business romance of the poor dentist is carried farther along its way to the pocket-books and bank accounts of shrewd investors the country over.

It's a pity a man can't dispose of his experience at cost.

Ohio County Drug Co., Secures Sale
Rights for Trutona in Hartford.

Trutona, the perfect tonic, that has now become widely popular in Louisville and other cities of the state, now is on sale in the drug store of the Ohio County Drug Co. The unprecedented success of Trutona is due entirely to its efficiency. Scores of Kentuckians are daily testifying to the beneficial results they have obtained from its use. What better proof of a medicine's merit could be desired.

Trutona is a tonic of the highest degree, exciting the appetite and invigorating the digestion. It is highly recommended for the treatment of dyspepsia, stomach trouble, liver and kidney troubles and catarrhal affections. Its action on the liver is almost instantaneous, exciting that most important organ when languid and resolving its turpitude and chronic engorgement.

Trutona acts directly on the mucous membranes, producing a sharply stimulative effect and leaving a pleasant tonic condition. It is a very valuable agency in all catarrhal affections, including those of the alimentary tract, head and nose. Trutona is a prompt, efficient and absolutely safe laxative. It is a strength builder unsurpassed by any preparation. Its use is recommended by run down and weakened men and women who are recovering from the serious after effects of pneumonia, influenza and deep colds.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained at Ohio County Drug Co., Incorporated, Hartford, Ky. Advertisement.

CAR TURNS OVER

Mr. Tom Tanner and some others who were riding in his car, happened to an accident which fortunately was not serious, Sunday afternoon, when the car turned turtle in a ditch near Nocreek church. Mr. Tanner met a party in a buggy and the horse became frightened at the car and in attempting to avoid causing a runaway, Mr. Tanner guided his car too near the ditch on the side of the road and in so doing it turned over, demolishing the top and windshield and injuring the passengers, though not seriously. Mrs. Higgs received a slight wound on the head and others sustained minor injuries, none of which were serious. The automobile was badly damaged.

AGED MAN DEAD

Mr. Templeton Yates, of near Bell's Run, died April 1st, of heart trouble. Mr. Yates was 77 years of age and was born in Tennessee. He came to this county some twenty-five years ago and has resided in the Bells Run neighborhood since. He married with the Bells' Run Baptist church twenty-five years ago and has been an earnest and faithful member until the time of his death. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity. He is survived by one son and one daughter. Funeral services were held at Bells' Run church, April 2nd, by Rev. R. E. Fuqua, assisted by the Masons. Interment in Bells Run cemetery.

BOY OF ELEVEN A SUICIDE

Hartstown, Ky., April 4.—Eleven-year-old Tommy Ashbaugh, grandson of George Ashbaugh, a farmer near Cox's Creek, hanged himself with a wire to a rafter in his grandfather's barn late Thursday night. Some months ago a neighbor boy had hanged himself with a trace chain and the suicide made a great impression on the boy's mind. He had told other children at school, his mother said, that "some day I'm going to hang myself, too." His mother sent him to the barn to feed a horse. When he did not return an investigation was made.

IN MEMORY OF

Mrs. Ardena Everly, who died September 17, 1918.
Dear sister, how I miss you.
Your face no more I see
No more the smile of welcome
That ever greeted me.

How sad to me, this parting.
Your voice no more I hear,
That voice so kind and gentle
To me was ever dear.

Your hand, with touch so tender
Oft bathed my throbbing brow,
Your words of loving kindness
Still linger with me now.

The many happy moments
That glided swiftly by,
We have spent together
Dear sister, you and I.

But in time of deep reflections
The sweetest thought of all,
The lesson you have taught me
How oft do I recall.

Your perfect trust in Jesus,
Unfaltering faith in God
Still lives this bright example
Tho you're sleeping neath the sod

The hope I fondly cherished,
When Jesus bids me come
To meet you there in heaven,
And dwell with Christ at home.
